Freedom of Information Act 2000

GUIDE TO INFORMATION

The Institute's Publication Scheme is supported by this Guide to Information which describes in more detail:

- the information we will routinely make available;
- how the information can be accessed; whether available on the internet or by requesting a hard copy from the relevant department;
- whether or not a charge will be made for it under published FeeCharges

Where information is not available on our website, requests for hard copies should be made to the ICR at the address below and will be replied to within five working days.

Where a request covers a large amount of information, it may be provided over an appropriate period of time, proportionate to the amount of information. In this instance, we will contact you to ask what information you are particularly interested in and whether you would prefer to receive it in any particular order.

The guide and the operation of the scheme will be reviewed annually.

You have the right, under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, to request any information held by a public authority which it has not already made available through its Publication Scheme.

Requests need to be made in writing. We have 20 working days to respond. We may charge a fee, which will have to be calculated according to Fee Charges. We are not required to release information to which an exemption in the Act legitimately applies.

To request hard copies or information not available through our publication scheme, please contact:
